

The Farmers of Shida Kartli Region were introduced to the details of the anti-crisis plan

23 May 2020

Giorgi Khojevanishvili, the State representative of the region, and Natalia Kharatishvili, the Head of the Operational Department of the Rural and Agricultural Development Agency met with the farmers in Shida Kartli region.

According to the State representative, it is important that as many farmers as possible benefit from the support that the state offers them. The anti-crisis plan for agriculture envisages a number of programs. If the programs are used, the farmer will receive 850 to 1700 GEL for 1 hectare of registered land.

Natalia Kharatishvili spoke about both direct and sectoral programs developed within the framework of the agricultural anti-crisis plan "Caring for Villages and Farmers" and introduced farmers to the importance of both programs and technical details that farmers should know to use the program.
